

GLENDAL PREFERRED

MRS. CHAS. JOHNSON AND DAUGHTERS LEASE PROPERTY, WILL BUY LATER

Mrs. Chas. L. Johnson and two daughters, Misses Alice and Mildred, who arrived in Glendale Monday from Duluth, Minn., have secured a delightful location, a seven-room house at 610 North Kenwood, belonging to Mrs. C. E. Pick of Los Angeles, which it chanced had just been vacated. When they failed to find a house Monday, after a weary search, the ladies made a hasty tour of other nearby cities, but found nothing to compare with Glendale, in their estimation, so they tried again to find a place to lease and this time successfully.

Mrs. Johnson is a teacher of dramatic oratory and has taught large classes in the East. The daughters are both expert stenographers and have held positions in Duluth. Mrs. Johnson says a number of things inclined her and her daughters to persist in the search until they found a home in Glendale. One was the beautiful location and surroundings and the clean, up-to-date appearance of the streets and residences, the only adverse feature being the ragged, weedy appearance of so many of the vacant lots; the courteous treatment accorded them by our real estate dealers to whom they applied availing for rental property as well as the kindly interest shown by residents whom they met in their search; and the efforts made by the Evening News proprietor and employees to bring their attempts to become residents of Glendale to a successful issue.

Mr. Johnson has been engaged in Y. M. C. A. work for a number of years, his wife stated, and she has lent her assistance to the Y. W. C. A. in many entertainments they have given in Duluth.

Mrs. Johnson says she expects her husband out here in a few weeks and on his arrival they will begin looking about for a Glendale home to buy.

CORPS CHAPLAIN INSTALLED

It will be remembered that Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel, who was elected chaplain at the Annual Department Convention of the G. A. R. and Women's Relief Corps recently held at Santa Barbara, was taken sick and was not able to remain until the close of the convention. She was therefore not installed as an officer. Neither was Mrs. Webster, of Sawtelle, elected a member of executive board. Accordingly, the installation of these two ladies took place Thursday at a meeting of the Bartlett-Logan Corps in Los Angeles, the ceremonies being conducted by the same officials who installed at Santa Barbara. Mrs. Houdyshel was accompanied by Mrs. Mary Milligan, president of the Glendale Corps, Mrs. Juliana Hayes and Mrs. Mary Patterson. A large number of department officers were present and some of the state officers, and it was a most interesting meeting.

GLENDAL'S WELCOME

MOTHERS' CONGRESS DELEGATES DELIGHTED WITH RECEPTION

In spite of a lengthy program long drawn out by reason of many resolutions to be voted upon, a large delegation from the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations was ready to take the automobiles awaiting them at the entrance to Bible Institute and be whisked to Glendale late Thursday afternoon. About forty-five machines were in line. All were filled to capacity and when the 225 delegates were welcomed by the local reception committee at the Elks' Club House after they had made a brief tour of the town they were enthusiastic in their expressions of admiration of the city. Gathered to greet them in the main reception hall of the Elks' Club were Mrs. A. A. Barton, president of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations, the presidents of the various associations—Mesdames Kulp, Lucas, Sonntag, Cline, Moore, Strong, Henry, Wyman; Messrs. Richardson D. White, Superintendent of City Schools; George U. Moyse, Principal of the High School; Mr. Ferguson, president of the High School Teachers' Club; Miss Clara Midcalf, president of the City Teachers' Club; Prof. W. D. Root, Mrs. Ryan, principal of Broadway School; Miss

TRUSTEES' MEETING

HEARING OF ORANGE STREET OPENING PROTESTS SET FOR JUNE 3RD

The Board assembled at 8:30 p. m., May 20, 1920. Trustees Bartlett, Henry, Robinson, Shaw and Stephenson were present. Minutes of the regular meeting of May 13, 1920, were read and approved.

At this time the hearing in reference to the application for a hospital permit on East California avenue was taken up. Mrs. Franklin, applicant for the permit, addressed the Board, as did also Mrs. Wiggins, who had circulated the petition requesting that the permit be not granted. After considerable discussion, a motion made by Trustee Henry was adopted denying the permit.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones appeared before the Board in the interest of the Hollywood May Festival, inviting the attendance of the members of the Board and the citizens of Glendale generally at the performance to be given Monday evening next at Hollywood, and requesting that the chairman of the Board issue proclamation calling attention of the people of Glendale to the same. On motion of Trustee Stephenson, the invitation was accepted and the chairman requested to issue a proclamation calling attention of the people of Glendale to the festivities. Mrs. Jones also stated that if any banners were left over after being used by the Parent-Teachers' Association she would be glad to secure them for use upon automobiles on the occasion above referred to.

Mattison B. Jones addressed the Board in reference to deeding to the city for alley purposes 45 feet on the east end of his Brand boulevard lot. He stated that one of the two owners of lots required on the north refuse to make such dedication, but that he stands ready to abide by his agreement, only requesting that he be allowed to retain possession until such a time as the alley is improved.

A communication was presented to the Board from the League of the Southwest, calling attention to the purposes of the organization and requesting that the City of Glendale affiliate with that body. Communication was ordered to be filed.

A communication was read from C. H. Temple requesting permit to remove five acacia trees from the

BRICK STORE BUILDING COMMENCED

With the removal of all the material left from the wrecking of the little real estate building that stood on the lot at 112 South Brand boulevard to rebuild the same just south of the taxi office, Kent & Son have begun active work on the construction of J. M. Blankenship's brick business house at 112. Some of the material has been on the ground for several days awaiting the clearing of the lot.

HONORING MISS BREIDT

Miss Elsa Breidt, of 118 East Chestnut, the young pianiste who recently made her debut in Glendale, was guest of honor at a reception given Saturday evening by Miss Margaret Goetz, the singer, in her studio in Blanchard Hall, L. A. It was beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion and the company included many musicians and other distinguished persons. There was an informal program to which Miss Breidt contributed several numbers. Miss Goetz and Mr. Harmon sang, and refreshments were served.

SENIOR DRAMATICS

THREE GOOD ONE-ACT PLAYS WELL PUT ON BY STUDENTS OF G. U. H. S.

The senior class play given at Glendale High Thursday evening proved to be three one-act plays, so well put on that they deserved a capacity house. There were some extra seats, but the ticket sale indicated that space would be at a premium tonight when they will be repeated. Especially pleasing was the first playlet, "The Teeth of the Gift Horse," in which it would be hard to designate the leading lady or the leading man because all members of the cast were of nearly equal importance and equally in the limelight. Possibly Aunt Marietta Williams, a sweet old lady personated by Agnes Louise Tupper, around whom the plot revolved, would be considered the central figure. It was a whole-

FREIGHT TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION DECIDES TO USE $125,000,000 OF GOVERNMENT'S REVOLVING FUND

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—As a step towards permanently relieving the car shortage which threatens to disrupt transportation, the Interstate Commerce Commission has decided that $125,000,000 of the $300,000,000 revolving fund provided by the Esch-Cummins law, be made available quickly for the purchase of railroad running stock. This announcement was made by the commission today while its orders for the routing of freight cars to break up the congestion were being put into effect.

In taking this action the Commission accepted the recommendations of the Association of Railway Executives recently made that $125,000,000 be set aside for the purchase of rolling stock.

"The minimum needs," said the Commission's statement, "are 2000 locomotives and 100,000 freight cars including 20,000 refrigerator cars. Some of this equipment is already being constructed or has been contracted for but $125,000,000 would probably be less than 25 per cent of the cost of the remainder which has not been ordered.

"It is evident that the equipment required properly to meet the needs of the public cannot be secured unless the carriers with the aid of the 25 per cent to be advanced by the government, themselves assume the burden of financing the remaining 75 per cent."

ACUTE SUGAR SITUATION

J. H. McLAUREN HEADING SOUTHERN GROCERS DECLARES PRICES COULD BE REDUCED 50 PER CENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Retail sugar prices can be reduced 50 per cent, J. H. McLaren announced here today following a conference that he and a delegation of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association had with Attorney General Palmer.

"The Attorney General must stop speculation in sugar," McLaren said. "The trouble with the sugar situation is hoarding and interference by brokers," declared McLaren. "They have cornered the supply."

Immediately after his meeting with the Wholesale Grocers Palmer conferred with a delegation of sugar brokers and importers from New York and other Atlantic Coast cities.

MOVEMENTS OF CARRANZA

SAID TO BE PLANNING TRANSPORT TO U. S. OR CANADA BY AMERICAN SHIPS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

VERA CRUZ, Mex., May 21.—American war ships in Vera Cruz harbor have orders to take President Carranza aboard should he request the American government to take him to friendly territory, it was reported in revolutionary circles here.

MEXICO CITY, May 21.—President Carranza plans to make his way to some port in the Tuxtam District and take a ship either for the United States or Cuba, according to the latest reports here. The revolutionary government it is believed would not object to the president's escape.

The choice of a provisional president to be completed Monday apparently has narrowed down to a contest between Pablo Gonzales and Adolfo de la Huerta, formerly Governor of Sonora.

FOOD PRICES IN CHICAGO

DO NOT RESPOND TO DOWNWARD MOVEMENT IN OTHER MARKETS TO MARKED EXTENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, May 21.—Food prices hesitatingly joined the procession downward today. Eggs, fresh vegetables and butter dropped slightly. Other commodities remained stationary or travelled upward. Explanations of this failure to respond to conditions affecting other markets were numerous.

The demand has kept up with the supply and sometimes surpassed it, dealers said. Stocks have been smaller, tying up less capital. Also the future of food production is less certain due to the problem of the farmer in securing help and other labor conditions, and also decreased acreage.

In the Chicago grain markets the feeling indicated in the trading was that prices will continue to recede as a part of the general deflation movement. Upturns are expected but are not looked upon as likely to be permanent.

Hotel buyers today found some prices descending. These included large cuts of beef and fresh vegetables. They predicted a gradual lowering. Leading grocers here predicted little change in the quotations from wholesalers.

Lower rents were forecasted today with the Chicago Housing Association offering five and six room houses at $30 a month on an "own your own home" basis.

Flour prices were down in Minneapolis, the milling center of the country. Sears Roebuck & Co., large dealers in foodstuffs were compiling their autumn prices and announced they would be lower.

The woolen market was demoralized, quotations being 15 per cent higher than former prevailing prices.

Delegation will form in front of High School in order of committees here named. Everyone must be on time as delegation will leave at 7 o'clock, sharp. Banners will be furnished for cars. To arrange for places in autos call up Glendale 147.

This Festival will be held in the hall at Wilton Place and Hollywood boulevard, one block west of Western avenue, which is reached by taking the Hollywood cars. The entire proceeds go to a fund being raised by the Hollywood Post of the American Legion for the erection of a Memorial Hall as a tribute to their dead comrades.

AUTO MEN FORMING ORGANIZATION

At the meeting held last night to take further steps toward organizing a Glendale branch of the California Auto Trade Association of Southern California dealers, H. E. White, of the Packer & White Auto Company, was chosen as temporary chairman, and J. A. Newton, of the Eveready Service Station, as temporary secretary. Another meeting will be held next Thursday evening to perfect the organization.

LIFE IN DALLAS

INTERESTING LETTER FROM MISS ALICE FRANK TELLS OF EXPERIENCES THERE

The Glendale Evening News is in receipt of an interesting communication from Miss Alice Frank, dated May 14, 1920, Dallas, Tex., which will be read with pleasure by her many friends here. The letter follows:

Dear Editor:—Almost six months have elapsed since I left the California Southland and many times have my thoughts turned back to the land of roses and sunshine.

Texas, indeed, is a wonder state with all its big opportunities and possibilities. Think of being able to travel three or four days without getting out of the state at all! The oil game and the cotton market have truly been the making and developing of this progressive state. Here in Dallas we have both the oil and the cotton interests. Dallas is wide awake and doing, but it is by no means ahead of California cities. On the contrary, Dallas people have lots to learn from us. Take, for instance, civics. When I first came I was ap-

M. E. CHOIR SUPPER

Members of the First Methodist choir enjoyed a jolly picnic supper Thursday evening which was spread in the banquet hall of the church on tables prettily decorated with nasturtiums. The guest list was not confined to singers but included members of their families and covers were laid for about fifty. Following the supper an impromptu program was enjoyed which included vocal solos by Mr. Clark, Mrs. Kniebs, Mr. Miller and Mrs. Meagher and a violin solo by Miss Lois Murphy. Following the program the regular choir rehearsal took place.

MAN ARRESTED CHARGED WITH WIFE BEATING

Last evening Officer Brown was summoned hurriedly to the corner of San Fernando and Los Feliz Roads where he says he found a man in a machine beating his wife, who was screaming loudly. With the assistance of another officer he placed them under arrest. He reports that the man, who proved to be H. M. Robertson, of Pasadena, seemed to be intoxicated and had with him a quart bottle labeled whiskey, which had not been opened, however. Mrs. Robertson was sent home but her husband was confined in the city jail to await trial.

BIRTHDAY PARTIES

MRS. EDYTHE GLASSEY ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF DAUGHTER'S NATAL DAY

Two pretty social affairs took place Thursday at the home of Mrs. Edythe Glassey, a newcomer from Toronto, Canada, who is residing at 462 West California. The special occasion for festivity was the natal anniversary of her daughter, Zora Glassey, who celebrated her twelfth birthday with supper served at five o'clock to a group of her school chums. She was assisted by Miss Evaline Blossom Moore, and Miss Helen Ohlman, and covers were laid for these young girls, for Helen and Ethel McCord, new residents in Glendale who came from Vina, New Jersey, Clara Roberts, Lenore Dorsey, Dorothy Wetton and the little hostess, who is a solo singer in the First Methodist Sunday school. In the decoration of the table, a pink color scheme was carried out in floral decorations and appointments, the birthday cake being especially lovely with its decoration of pink candles in cut glass holders, and pink doves. Mrs. Glassey is an artist in fancy cake decoration and she spared no pains to make this one beautiful. The girls were entertained with games during the afternoon and had a chance to try their luck with a pink grab bag which yielded a present for each guest. Miss Zora was the recipient of many pretty gifts.

In the evening Mrs. Glassey entertained a group of adult friends with a four-course dinner dominated by a pink color scheme in the carnations which centered the table and the streamers festooned from the chandeliers above it. Otherwheres in the house were quantities of roses, sweet peas and other flowers with which the hostess was showered by her friends. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ohlman, Miss Ohlman, Mr. and Mrs. Henriksen, Mrs. Bryson of Arlington Heights, Mrs. Lynn, Mr. Scribner and the hostess who was assisted in entertaining by Mesdames Ohlman and Henriksen. Following the dinner a pleasant social and musical evening was enjoyed by the party.

HOARDERS AND POOR SHIPPING

While the public is familiar with the profiteer at the retailing end, it should not forget the "hoarding producer"—the firm that while continuing to produce is holding back a portion of the stocks from normal output. It has been observed that while there has been constant talk of a lack of production, and this condition undoubtedly exists on the farms from inability to get labor, it is always possible for any one ready to pay exorbitant prices to get stocks in as large quantities as desired.

The movement of young men from the farm to manufacturing industries speaks eloquently of production in some of those activities. The federal authorities have been loosening up these stocks, but the public should give them such encouragement in their efforts in that direction as will bring still greater results. At the same time, the handicap of troubles in the transportation service has to be taken into account. Wholesale deliveries held back by transportation difficulties, obviously, affect the consumers about the same as if the stocks were deliberately hoarded.

However, the public has about reached the point where it will admit of no excuse for the prevailing prices of sugar. There is the impression that there is sugar somewhere, and the demand grows that it be put on the market.

So with many other stocks.

Let there be a loosening up all along the line.

With the Democratic convention in San Francisco and two native sons among the big possibilities of the Republicans, California may be pardoned for getting a wee bit chesty.

SKY-HIGH PRICES TO GREET G. O. P. DELEGATES

CHICAGO, May 20. (United Press).—Three million dollars will change hands here during convention week in the matter of housing delegates and visitors to the G. O. P. national convention, according to estimates made here today.

Indications were many visitors to the convention will spend sleepless nights unless they want to park a mattress on Chicago's lake front and risk the marrow chilling lake breezes through the night.

More than 50,000 visitors are expected to be in Chicago during the exciting week and of these several thousand may have to go homeless unless Chicagoans can be induced to give up rooms in their own homes.

Aristocratic north shore residents have already set the example but if the price they demand is followed by others, visitors will have to go homeless after they leave here, if they pay them. Wealthy Chicagoans are asking two and three thousand dollars for letting out their homes during convention week.

All hotels here are booked. The last room was sold more than a month ago. Prices for rooms in Michigan Avenue hotels range from $20 to $100 a day for a room.

Other hotels charge from $15 up. Lodging houses, ordinarily charging 35 and 50 cents boosted their rates to $2 and $3 a night.

Delegates will not have to roam Chicago streets in search of a place to live. The national committee months ago took up the matter of reserving rooms for them. Women delegates will have an abundance of rooms to select from. There will be about ten hostesses for each woman delegate and each is willing to find a spare room for the guest.

Five thousand visitors to the convention have already reserved rooms in addition to the reservations made by the delegates.

"Millionaire" row on the Gold Coast is offering many of its choice mansions to visitors. They are willing to give them up to the convention visitors for the period of the convention—for a consideration. The consideration amounts to three, four and five thousand dollars. The rental includes the family's usual staff of servants.

Mrs. W. A. Vincent offers her place at a "bargain," according to the agent. Only $800 is wanted. Mrs. R. Hall McCormick is willing to vacate for a few days for $3,000. Mrs. Charles Adsit offers her house at $700 a month rent but wants $2,500 for convention week.

"Well, why not?" said one woman. "The hotels are charging $100 a day."

Mrs. Rosecrans Baldwin has 11 rooms and three baths and asks $2,000 for its rental during convention week.

H. C. L.—A CLOSE-UP

By Margaret Rohe
(Written for the United Press)

In Zululand

It's simply grand

To have a familee

For children there

Just nothing wear

It's cheap as it can be

But in New York

Abjure the stork—

To dress one child, I fear,

Would wreck the home exchequer quite.

A little dear's too dear.

NEW YORK, May 20.—With offspring clinging to my hand I started out today to get her all accounted for the coming summer day. Her little heart was full of joy for every woman knows they thrill at even seven years when they are buying clothes. We hied us to the barber first for hair must be bobbed so, or else the fetching new straw hat won't look just right, you know. Just fifty cents and ten cents tip that hair cut cost. A quarter or fifteen cents when I was young would cut my hair much shorter.

We looked at hats then looked askance for eighteen fifty per was what a simple leghorn cost. I made a sad demur. A broad brimmed Milan sailor hat, 'twas plain but very nifty, the sales girl said a bargain was at only sixteen fifty. We finally chose a beige hued one quite chic for maids of seven. Because it wasn't quite so fine a straw 'twas but eleven.

Then to the frocks we quickly hied and darlings we espied that each turned out a little dear. Their prices horrified. One tiny frock of taffeta hand worked in colored silk looked for a little princess fit but no one of that ilk could e'er afford its ghastly price of dollars forty-five. I'm sure some laundress lady's child will wear it out to drive.

Some frilly frocks of organdie at twenty-five were cheap—at least that's what the salesgirl said. We didn't even peep. The cheapest gingham frocks were eight, the better ones were ten, of closer weave and "chicer" cut we didn't get one then but chose a simple chambray one of color yellow bright. It only cost a paltry nine—but still it looked alright.

A silken coat at fifty-four we hurried gasping by. A small child's pride must keep her warm when prices are sky high.

A pair of patent leather pumps five dollars set us back and tan play shoes at seven more hit our poor purse a whack.

Some English socks were ninety cents a measly little pair. No wonder fathers live to curse the day they had an heir.

We finished off with cotton gloves, not very chic 'tis true. They cost a dollar and a half while kid cost more than two.

With offspring clinging to my hand I started home today. My child has hat, dress, gloves and shoes but ere the first, I'll say we'll have to sell the family booze the awful bills to pay or else perhaps we'll have to make a hasty getaway.

HARD TO BREAK OUT OF THIS

One of the oddest of jails is at Clifton, Ariz., which lies in an important copper region. This jail comprises four large apartments hewn in the side of a hill of solid quartz. The entrance is in a box-like vestibule built of heavy masonry and the gates have three sets of steel bars.

But anyway, look at the free advertising Fannie Hurst is getting out of it.

"Echoes of Naples" (Ascher); Exit March, "Fellowship" (Klohr).

For the so successful presentation of these playlets much credit is due Miss Abbie C. Terry, head of the department of dramatic art, who coached the members of the cast. The smoothness with which the affair went off could be attributed also to excellent work on the part of the executive staff made up of the following students: Business Manager, Clifford Kenworthy; Advertising Manager, Loys Griswold; Stage Manager, Kenneth Wilde; Master of Properties, Clare Staley; Mistress of Properties, Mary Logan; Master Electrician, Harold Duey; Prompter, Dorothy Shaw.

A staff of pretty girls headed by Miss Harriet Barnes, president of the Girls' League, received tickets, dispensed programs and acted as ushers.

On Misdirected Wit

Sarcasm really never pays. We always like to see a sarcastic person get it in the neck.

Mrs. Clancy was a very sarcastic woman and it is probably due to this fact that she had a falling out with her friend, Mrs. Murphy, who lived in the apartment just under her.

One day while Mrs. Clancy was feeling particularly mean she looked down from her window and saw Mrs. Murphy, also enjoying the scenery. She could not resist the temptation to take a shot at her.

"Oi say, Murphy," she called down in deep sarcasm, "why don't ye take your ugly old mug aout iv the windy and put your pet monkey in its place. That'd give the naybors a change they'd like."

Mrs. Murphy looked up. "Wel, now, Mrs. Clancy," she slowly said, "it was only this mornin' that I did that very thing, an' the poleceman came along an' whin he saw the monkey he bowed and shmiled and said: 'Why Mrs. Clancy, whin did ye move down shtairs?'"

One of the advantages of holding a high rank is the automobile that goes with the job. A brigadier-general's car carries a flag with one star. One day a b.-g. passed a colored sentry who failed to present arms as the car passed by.

He got out and said to the guard, "Don't you know what that star represents?"

"Yassah," was the reply; "dat mean you done have er scn in de ahmy."—Literary Digest.

THE OLD BUNK BACK AGAIN

Revival of the propaganda to get back to a normal economic basis by deprivations is another illustration of our economic illiteracy. We may mean well and that is not so sure. To be able to say we are doing something we will do the wrong thing rather than use our common sense and locate the right remedy.

To tell the country that the way to get rid of the trouble is to begin to deprive ourselves of everything but just enough to keep body and soul together is flabdoodle. The old-fashioned superstitious farmers who planted this, that and the other thing in the light or dark of the moon never knew how foolish they were. The men of the next generation will smilingly ask themselves how the men of our day ever managed to get through without a knowledge of economic laws.

The first step in getting rid of the trouble is to open the door to more buying at lower prices. Until all commodities of necessity are within the easy reach of every family there can be no change that will give relief. The family with the smallest income must be able to provide for itself. When that is done the "problem" of production will automatically solve itself.

Greater demand means greater consumption, and greater consumption means heavier production—and always will. It is deliberate flabdoodle to insist that production is too low. That does not account for the high prices. There is not a sane man in the United States who doesn't know that the fault is not in a lowered production. There are few men who do not know just as clearly that production is ample to allow moderate prices if we were not on a wrong trail.

The history of every modern invention is a record of restricted use until increased demand enlarged production, lowered costs, and placed the product within the reach of the greatest number of users. What is true of these inventions is true of every commodity. There is enough of everything to allow heavier consumption, but the increased buying is shut off by exorbitant prices. The same advisers who tell Americans to do without everything are the men who see clearly enough that it is inability to buy and consume that is handicapping Europe. Yet they do not seem to see that the lowest possible consumption means the lightest production, and consequently still higher prices. One of the needs of the times is a few less counsellors who through a lack of knowledge of elemental economics do not know what they are talking about.

"THIS VULGAR COUNTRY"

One's first impulse on reading that the grandson of a distinguished American statesman wants his children sent to Europe "to acquire a little of the 'gloss' they will not acquire in this vulgar country" is to exclaim, "The contemptible snob!" And after a calm, dispassionate inquiry into the subject, and a studied effort to determine in what particulars America is vulgar and Europe not vulgar, one finds the original impulse recurring.

One of the commonest statements made in connection with the charge that Americans are vulgar is that they are greatly concerned with the pursuit of "the almighty dollar." Now let us consider the Europeans who probably would be regarded as having the most polish—that "gloss" not to be acquired in "this vulgar country." First, there are those who occupy a supposedly superior status in the matter of birth and breeding—the aristocrats of the nobility. Are the princes, dukes and belted knights indifferent to our vulgar dollars? Not so that you could notice it. It is notorious that from royalty down to the obscurest baronet they have not disdained, time and again, to soil their dainty hands with our "filthy lucre" through the process of marrying American heiresses.

Then let us consider another class of polished Europeans—those who are foremost in the field of the intellect, the great scientists, novelists, poets and musicians. Do they think it vulgar to chase "the almighty dollar?" Cast your eyes over a list of the lecturers who have been touring the country during the last year, and note the number of European savants among them. It appears that almost the first thing that comes into their minds after they have acquired fame is to visit the United States and gather in some of our vulgar dollars by exhibiting themselves for a generous price of admission. Then there are those who would starve by the thousands were it not for the generosity of American wealth, and the American dollar also looked pretty good to the greater part of Europe during the war.

There is, of course, nothing essentially vulgar in a desire to make money. The only true test of whether a people is vulgar or not is to be found in manners. And it is confidently submitted that Americans are inferior to none in this respect. We may lack, perhaps, some of that courtliness and superficial elegance for which certain European nations are noted, but we do not lack the only qualities that are really of consequence in a gentleman or lady. No country excels this in the considerate regard that is shown for the rights and feelings of others, particularly in the treatment that is accorded women, children, old persons and those who through no fault of their own are more or less defenseless against abuse and injustice.

Our most offensive vulgarians are those who call the United States "this vulgar country."

A POPULATION PROBLEM

Ten years ago 53.7 per cent of the population of the United States was in the country districts and 46.3 in the urban communities. It was then predicted that in a few years the drift to the cities would soon place more people in the towns than in the rural regions. There is no doubt that this condition has long ago been reached.

Forty years ago seven out of every 10 Americans lived in the country sections and but three in towns. Twenty years ago there were four town dwellers to every six ruralists. It was as has been seen almost 50-50 a decade ago and at the same rate of progress, a 33 per cent increase in the number of urbanites and only an 11 per cent increase in ruralities, the ratio between 1900 and 1910, the city folk were yearly tipping the farm folk higher in the air. But that was not all. The drift to the towns has been increasing in the last 10 years by leaps and bounds and worse than that, the war shut off immigration to replace the lost farm labor and today the census calculators, noting the growth of urban communities, are looking for a sensational drop in the rural ratio.

This is much more than an academic question. The remarkable decrease in the number of food producers, coupled with a remarkable increase in the number of those fed away from the farms, threatens to become an acute problem. Some look to the greater use of machinery in the fields and to more intensive cultivation for equalization. Others point to the war production of our farms as showing what they can do if promised reasonable reward, and that even before the war production kept pace with American consumption. Yet others ask whether with the reconstruction of Europe and the decline of the foreign demand upon our farms profitable prices can be maintained and are met with the rejoinder that falling prices will supply more labor to the farms and provide an automatic adjustment.

OREGON'S PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY

WOOD, LOWDEN AND JOHNSON COMPETE FOR FIRST PLACE WITH JOHNSON'S PROSPECTS GOOD

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PORTLAND, Ore., May 21.—Senator Hiram Johnson, Governor Frank O. Lowden and General Leonard Wood are contesting for first instructed delegates to the Chicago convention in the primaries being held in Oregon today.

William G. McAdoo will get the ten Democratic delegates as he is the only aspirant for the Democratic presidential indorsement in this state. Delegates elected at an Oregon primary are automatically pledged to vote for the presidential candidate receiving the highest popular vote.

Johnson's campaign managers claim the California senator will be the Republican high man when the polls are closed tonight, and political observers here are inclined to agree with them. The early indications were that one of the largest votes ever polled in an Oregon primary will be rolled up today.

KNOX PEACE RESOLUTION

PASSED BY HOUSE FOLLOWING PASSAGE BY SENATE AND SENT TO PRESIDENT WILSON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The House today passed the Knox peace resolution and sent it to President Wilson. It had already been passed by the Senate. Hissing by the Democrats broke out when Representative Mason of Illinois, Republican, declared that he "would rather take the judgment of the Senate than that of the sick man at the other end of the avenue." Mason claimed that the President has no right to keep American troops in Germany.

It is believed that President Wilson will veto the measure. The vote was 228 to 139. It indicated the resolution cannot be passed over the president's veto as the majority is less than the necessary two-thirds.

Personals

W. R. Blair has taken out a permit allowing him to remodel his residence at 1611 Gardena avenue.

Geo. P. Bohannon has sold his beautiful new 6-room residence at 326 Myrtle to R. L. Dell and he and his wife, with the two children, will spend the summer at Hermosa Beach, in a cottage they own there, expecting to return to Glendale in the fall.

Dr. Henry R. Harrower has bought three lots on Broadway at the southwest corner of that street and Belmont, with 150 feet frontage on the former and 140 feet on the latter and will later build on it for his laboratory, which has already spread out over the entire second floor of the Bank of Glendale building and employs 32 people.

Last evening, about six o'clock, the five-year-old daughter of Daniel Mandez, who lives on Elk avenue near the Southern Pacific tracks, was struck by a bicycle ridden by Anthony Garcia, while she was playing in the street. The child was found to have a fractured collar bone by the physician who attended her.

Frank Echols, of the Roberts & Echols pharmacy, who sold his place on South Orange the first of the year has just taken out a permit for the erection of a large garage and work room in the rear of his lot at 541 North Jackson, at a cost of $1,500. Later he will build a fine home on the front of the lot. G. W. Calkins is the contractor.

Miss Winifred Jones is coming home today from the Baptist University at Redlands to be a guest at a big tea which is being given by Miss Mannette Francisco in honor of two former school chums at Marlborough School, who are soon to be married. Miss Jones will be here for the week-end, returning to her school Sunday night or Monday morning.

A card from Mrs. Charles H. Toll, dated Jacksonville, Fla., May 16th, states: "We have accomplished with safety and delight this first part of our journey. New Orleans was our first stop, were there two days. There is a great deal of interest to see. The river and its commerce are wonderful. The life in the South is so different from our own as to be full of interest. Tomorrow we go on to Savannah."

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Latham and daughter, Lillian, of Delaware, Ohio, have moved into their new home at 330 West Broadway which they purchased about two weeks ago. L. Dana Latham, who is attending the law school of the University of Chicago, expects to join his parents at the close of the school year. Mr. Latham was in the book, stationery and art business while living in Delaware which is the seat of the Ohio-Wesleyan University.

Will C. Higgins, editor of the Salt Lake Mining Review, is in Glendale earnestly looking for a place to rent, as he and his wife, whom he left in Salt Lake while he came on ahead to find a location, wish to spend the summer here. Mr. Higgins' health has failed on account of his strenuous labors of the past year or two and his physician ordered him to the Coast for a long rest. He had heard so much of Glendale that he decided to locate here if he could find a place to live.

Mrs. W. D. Clark of 420 West Elk avenue is a firm believer in the virtue of Evening News classified ads, as she has recently sold two residence properties through this means, the latest one the 6-room house where the family is now living. Dr. D. W. Hunt being the purchaser, he having also sold his place at the corner of Harvard and Belmont. Possession is to be given in both instances in 30 days. The Clarks will endeavor to rent a place with an acre of ground or thereabouts with a view to buying.

FISHING PARTY COMES TO GRIEF

J. A. Pope, King Barton and L. K. (Kid) Williams started away early this morning in highest spirits to bring home an auto load of fish from Big Bear Lake. An hour or so after their departure a telephone message was received from Uplands demanding that the Barton Bros.' service car be sent post-haste to that place to bring them and their machine home, as they had collided with a tractor. Their friends here are wondering why they wandered off into some rancher's field to assault with their machine an innocent tractor which had done them no harm, and had the temerity to think they could butt it off the track, but they are mercifully withholding further comments until the returned adventurers can give a reason for their action.

RAINFALL FOR SEASON NOW 17.30 INCHES

Last night's gentle rain and this morning's mist registered .03 of an inch of moisture, T. W. Preston informed the Evening News. The season's record is now 17.30 inches, as against 12.83 for last year.

ATHLETIC EVENTS

The noon ball games continued Thursday at Intermediate, the Red Sox playing the Tigers with a score of 3 to 6 in favor of the Tigers. Bees met the White Sox and made 15 points to 4 by the White Sox. Interest, however, centered in the afternoon indoor baseball game played by the Intermediates against the High School team made up of boys of the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes. It terminated with a score of 20 to 13 in favor of Intermediate, but the High School team was ahead until the last half of the ninth inning when the Intermediates rallied and brought in ten runs which changed the score. Tom Morgan pitched for the High School, the Intermediate pitchers being Lionel Martinez and Hal Thompson. William Morgan and Paul Bettis brought in the most runs, but John Lovell brought in the winning run in the 9th inning.

Girls kept up their end in ball games also, the Bees and Tiger Lilies at Intermediate playing their noon game with a score of 15 to 3 in favor of the Bees.

In the afternoon the Intermediate Girls' Team played the Girls' Team of Glendale High at the High School and won with a score of 51 to 3. Miss Dorothy Van Osdoll pitched for the Intermediates and brought in five home runs; Charlotte Hawkinson brought in two home runs. Gladys Hollingsworth played an excellent game and also brought in some runs. Mary Cook was catcher of the team.

This is the fourth defeat that the Indoor Ball team of Glendale High has suffered at the hands of the Intermediates, but they are not at all discouraged and will play them again next Monday afternoon.

GLENDALE 11, SOUTH PASADENA 7

With a team composed almost entirely of the regular members Glendale High went over to South Pasadena yesterday afternoon for a game. They won out 11 to 7. It was "Lefty" Herman's day to shine, which he did with 3 home runs, which drove in 8 of Glendale's 11 runs.

SCHOOL UNIFORMS

The question of school uniforms has been under consideration by girls of Glendale Union High for some time. Early in the week a party of fifty or more went to Pasadena to witness the uniform parade of school girls of the Crown City. Wednesday at the third period a vote was taken in regard to the matter in the Glendale school, the returns being 168 for to 124 against, the ruling not to be compulsory, however. It is the understanding that it will go into effect next September. It is viewed with favor as a simplification of school problems, a measure of efficiency and economy.

ANNUAL CAMP MEETING

MOONEY'S GROVE, VISALIA, Cal., May 21.—One of the most important gatherings to be held in Central California this year will be the biennial conference and annual camp meeting of the Seventh-day Adventists, which opens at Mooney's Grove, eight miles from Visalia, Thursday evening, May 27th, and will continue until and including June 6th. Several Glendale ministers will be among the leading speakers. A tent city is being erected for the accommodation of those who will attend the meeting, which, it is expected, will draw a larger number than ever before in the history of the Seventh-day Adventist church in Central California.

Last year about 2000 were encamped on the grounds, under the great live oaks, and this year a large number of additional tents have been secured in preparation for the increased attendance. A brand new "top" of very large size, capable of accommodating an audience of 4,000 or 5,000 persons, has been purchased, and is being shipped out from Kansas City. This will be used for the general sessions. Four other large tents will be used for the departmental meetings.

A cafeteria and grocery store will be conducted on the grounds, the large pavilion at the northeast end of the grove being used for this purpose. Elder F. E. Brown, of Hanford, will be in charge of the dining pavilion. A tent will be fitted up for the sale of Bibles, denominational books, pamphlets and periodicals, and will be in charge of E. A. Moon, of Fresno.

This year the big gathering really will be two meetings in one, because the biennial conference, for the election of officers, and the transaction of other conference business, will be combined with the annual camp meeting. Including the departmental and other meetings, not less than 12 meetings will be held each day. Of particular interest to the general public will be the lectures at 11 a. m., 3 p. m. and 7:20 p. m., and the young people's meetings at 4:30 p. m. daily. The camp meeting will be in the nature of a Bible Chautauqua, and will be of great educational value to all. However, no admission charge of any kind will be made, and Elder H. S. Shaw, of Fresno, president of the

CHICKS COME AT CALL

W. S. KIRK'S YOUNG LEGHORNS ARE TAME AS KITTENS

W. S. Kirk has a miniature vegetable and poultry ranch on his tract of less than an acre at 1129 East Colorado. He bought it of C. Q. Bullock, who had acquired it of Mr. Severance, who built the house and set out the older trees. There are peach, apricot, lemon and fig trees in full bearing and some younger ones of other kinds. There are a few grape and berry vines, also, and one of the finest small gardens in that section of the city, all clear of weeds and of exceedingly thrifty growth.

Mr. Kirk bought the place last July and found it fairly overgrown with weeds, the trees neglected and the outbuildings dilapidated. He has built a commodious garage, workshop and feed room, combined, several up-to-date rabbit hutches, with every convenience for doing all the feeding without opening them, and a large brooder house. He is now building a laying house for his Leghorns, of which he has nearly 700 pullets 8 weeks old, and a hundred or more little cockerels. These are so tame that he has but to give the quail call when he enters the house and they will hurry to him, flying on his head, arms and shoulders and seeking to be petted. It is the same with his Rose Comb Wyandottes, of which he has a pen of pure breeds that cost him almost $20 a bird. Mr. Kirk expects in another year to have a flock of fine layers of costly strains from which he can sell settings for good prices. He is in love with Glendale and says it is his choice of all the Southland cities. He was born in San Antonio, Texas, and served an early apprenticeship in newspaper work in Dennison, the same state, starting in as devil and working up to the ownership of a paper. He was an old acquaintance of the Friedels, father and son, who recently gave up situations in the Evening News composing room to go back to Dennison. Mr. Kirk is not only an expert printer of the olden days, but is a good carpenter, sheet metal worker and concrete mixer, so does all his own improvement work on the place.

Last but not least he and his good wife are very fond of flowers and have pansy beds and a row of sweet peas that are rich in bloom. In providing sticks for his sweet pea vines to run up on he picked up some slender switches cut from trees and lilac bushes, sharpening them and sticking them down in the ground. One lilac cutting took root and actually bore a small bloom, though it had been in the ground only a few months.

Central California Conference, extends to the public a cordial invitation to attend.

Among the leading speakers at this important gathering will be Elder George B. Thompson, of Washington, D. C., field secretary of the General Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists; Elder J. T. Boettcher, of Clinton, Mo., for many years connected with the Adventist church work in Russia; Elder J. W. Christian, of Glendale, Cal., president, Pacific Union Conference of the Adventists, comprising the states of California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah; Elder George W. Wells, of Oakland, Cal., president California Conference; Elder Clarence Santee, Lodi, Cal., president Northern California Conference; Elder M. A. Hollister, Reno, Nev., president, Nevada Conference; Elder J. Adams Stevens, of Glendale, Cal., executive secretary of the home missionary department, Pacific Union Conference; F. E. Painter, of Glendale, Cal., field missionary secretary, Pacific Union Conference; Prof. W. W. Ruble, Glendale, Cal., executive secretary of the educational and young people's departments, Pacific Union Conference.

Dr. H. G. Westphal, medical superintendent of the Glendale (Cal.) Sanitarium and Hospital, will have a special tent on the grounds and several nurses from the Glendale institution also will be in attendance.

Local conference ministers of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination who will be present are: Elders H. S. Shaw, Fresno; Stephen T. Hare, Fresno; F. E. Brown, Hanford; G. A. Grauer, Modesto; B. L. Howe, Porterville; B. L. Dieffenbacher, Wasco; Frank Weeks, Merced; E. L. Naff, Fresno; C. W. Fuller, H. E. Giddings, Dinuba; W. F. Miller, Fresno; W. R. Nelson, Isaac C. Schneider, Paul Scoggins, Dinuba; George T. Vore, Coalinga; M. L. Rice, Gustine; C. Castillo, Hanford.

SARTORIAL STATESMANSHIP

Paul Deschanel, the new president of the French republic, has been described as a man of fashion and his photographs prove it. It is the more surprising then to learn that on his coming tour of France he and his suite, by executive direction, will forswear the high hat, the "boiled shirt" and the open-face swallow tail that have hitherto been the official regalia of the presidential party en tour. Instead they will appear in soft hats, soft shirts with soft collars and lounge suits. Some will see in this further evidence of the decline of statesmanship, those who recall the days when the "Prince Albert," in which the non gesticulatory hand was thrust, the blue and white polka dot tie and the choker collar, were the visible insignia of political prominence.

A COMING TRIUMPH

ALL-CALIFORNIA "SCHOOL OF CHRISTIANITY" PROJECT OF CHRISTIAN CHURCHES

Large numbers of Glendale citizens are interested in the coming founding of "The California School of Christianity" in Los Angeles on Vermont avenue diagonally across from the Southern Branch of the University of California. The Christian church of this community is represented in the organization by Rev. C. A. Cole, who, with J. M. Ray, Fred L. Thompson and Miss Gertrude Forrest, have a place in the general organization plans covering the state.

A goal of $800,000 is set to be secured by July 15th. That is the time limit of the campaign. The intensive work of founding the school is already on and a hearty interest in its success is being manifested by all members and friends of the Christian churches. The enterprise bids fair to be completed much before the time limit set by reason of its popularity.

The organization plans include look-out for large gifts from any source and the prospects are good for many of them. No gift of less than $25 is solicited from any friend, it being affirmed such a sum should be the least investment for the cause. When all gifts of whatever size total the strength of 20,000 minimum gifts of $25.00, victory will have been registered.

The California School of Christianity will be a special school of religion, having the Bible as its main text book, and affording in its curriculum opportunity for study of everything that may enter into the Christianization of the world. Five acres of ground have been purchased for about $75,000; construction of buildings will shortly begin, and students are already being listed, as the work will be inaugurated with the fall semester of the University in September. Local members of the Christian church and their friends are enthusiastic in their faith in the great enterprise, and their enthusiasm is duplicated in all the churches of this brotherhood throughout California.

Every member and friend of the Glendale Christian church is expected to have opportunity, through the local committee's efforts, to have a share in this fascinating prospect toward strengthening the Christian philosophy and destiny.

HIGH COST OF CARELESSNESS

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has been analyzing the nation's residential fire losses, as distinguished from the destruction by flames of other classes of buildings, in order to be able to give householders more definite warning than has hitherto been possible. While the greatest aggregate fire loss occurs through the burning of industrial and commercial structures, such as warehouses, factories, grain elevators and mills, private dwellings furnish the largest number of fires. And the fires in homes are most frequently attended with loss of life.

In 1917 it was found that 65 per cent of all reported fires occurred in residences, the loss representing 28 per cent of the aggregate damage. The cause of greatest damage to dwellings was shown to be "defective chimneys and flues," the loss from this source being $7,987,000. "Lightning" came second, with $4,873,000 loss on buildings without lightning rods, an indication that the largely discarded protective device may not be so ineffectual after all. "Stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipes" are blamed for damage to the amount of $4,689,000.

It is figured that more than 40 per cent of the dwelling house losses were from "strictly preventable" causes. That is to say, from carelessness, often so gross as to be classable as criminal. The present serious shortage of houses in this country emphasizes the gravity of such a situation. We must stop letting our homes burn through carelessness, and the underwriters' investigation suggests that the first step is to put our houses in order.

NEEDLESS TO SAY

Was little Mary's cry;
"Just as the thread is going through

GLENDALE WELCOME

Waite, principal of Colorado School; Mrs. Arthur Brown, trustee of City Schools; Dr. Bryant and C. O. Pulliam, High School trustees. After being presented and passed down the line and having been given opportunity to exclaim about the beauty of the floral decorations—great jars filled with Scotch broom and Matilaja poppies,—they were conducted to the banquet hall below stairs through a corridor fragrant with the bloom of wonderful red roses. At the door of the hall two pretty girls detained each lady long enough to present her with a boutonniere, a dainty floral confection of pink, white and lavender, received with many expressions of pleasure. The wonder how the committee had ever solved when it was explained that each of the ten city schools had undertaken to furnish forty and had faithfully executed the commission. On the tables where the refreshments were displayed in tempting array, were lovely baskets of roses and carnations in pink and white, and the same colors were repeated in the beautiful and rather elaborate decoration of the stage at the east end of the room.

There were also other flowers in reserve which made their dramatic appearance when the entire company was assembled and in the midst of enjoying delicious home-made cake, coffee and punch. There was a call for Dr. Jessie Russell, who has served the Mothers' Congress as president for the past three years and has just relinquished the office to a representative from the north. When the doctor, who was fetchingly gowned in white and who looked very pretty and animated, was finally located and dragged to the center of the room, Mrs. A. A. Barton, as chief official of the occasion, presented her with a tall basket filled with beautiful white carnations, pink gladioli and syringa, on behalf of the Glendale Federation. At the same time Mrs. Cline, as president of the Colorado P-T. A., bestowed a very handsome sheaf of pink and white carnations, explaining that it was as president of the Colorado P-T. A. that the doctor's work along that line began. In a characteristic response Dr. Russell expressed her appreciation of the "adorable way" in which this effort to honor the state association had been carried through by the women's committees and by the men of the town who had turned out with their automobiles to bring the visitors to Glendale. "I want to thank you on behalf of the delegates to one of the largest conventions ever held in Los Angeles and which has included representatives from San Diego to the extreme northern part of the state," she said, "and I bespeak for the splendid president who is to follow me the same co-operation and support you have given me."

Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke, courtesy chairman of the Glendale P-T. A. Federation, headed the general committee of arrangements, and was assisted by the hospitality chairmen of the ten P-T. A. associations of the city, the ladies who aided in the floral decoration of the club house being Mrs. Cline, president of the Colorado P-T. A.; Mrs. Jepson, of the Broadway Association; Mrs. Wyman, president of Central Avenue Association, and Mrs. Perry, of the Colorado Association. Miss Mildred Meeker and Miss Margery Yarrick had charge of the musical program supplied by the player piano and photograph of the Elks' Club while refreshments were being served. Flower girls at the door were Katherine Guthrie and Lillian Owens.

Men were present in sufficient numbers not to seem in the minority—for were there not 48 automobiles driven by as many representative business and professional men of the city who had brought this aggregation of feminine beauty and wisdom to Glendale, and beside them were the men of our public schools.

It was a gracious bit of hospitality which will spread the fame of our city and the success with which it was carried out should bring satisfaction to every one who participated.

AND, YET, HE DRANK

Miss Jones Should Worry

The other day an Indiana city school superintendent promoted Miss Jones, a grade teacher, to the English department in the high school. He was discussing the work with her when she suddenly said:

"Oh, Mr. Black, it's going to be so hard for me. You see I've always used so much slang, and now when I teach English I won't dare use it any more."

"Slang!" ejaculated the superintendent. "Well, believe me, Alice, you'll have to can that stuff now."

The Rain-Makers

Hubb (arriving home)—"Your eyes look red. What's the matter?"
Wife—"Oh, nothing."

Hubb—"Yes, there is. What is it—something that happened at home or something you saw at the movies?"

Tuff!

"The way of the transgressor is hard," said the pastor, who was visiting the penitentiary.

"That's right," agreed the convict. "They make you go to church every Sunday in this place."

A Cold World

"It's surprising the indifference of people," declared Candidate Flubdub.

"Can't get 'em warmed up, eh?"

WHY NOT ALL THE TIME?

Several Chicago women blessed—or otherwise—with too ample avoirdupois, are banded in a class pledged to reduce their weight by scientific dieting under distinguished direction. Chicago first was merry; the photographs of some of the matrons found their way into the public prints and the wiseacres said that publicity would end the endeavor. Then Chicago was skeptical; when the women smiled and kept the faith the know-it-alls said they would be disappointed, anyway. Now Chicago is enthusiastic; in the first week the volunteers have dispensed with an average of nearly four pounds each, and their period of training has eight weeks to go. Oother classes in "reduction" are forming.

The dieters are receiving much undeserved applause. They are doing only what common sense dictates. If, after they have restored themselves to physical fitness, they continue the regimen essential to good health and happiness they will merit praise. Wonder arises that persons who will adopt unusual methods of restoring themselves to health are so neglectful of the ordinary precautions against the slipping back from good health. The answer is that it is human nature. What is human nature? Chiefly, if we are to judge by everyday examples, the inclination to follow the path of least resistance. It is easier to overeat and grow fat than to diet and keep fit. It is easier to neglect exercise and fresh air and grow thin than it is to walk a few miles a day and keep vigorous. Then, when nature rings an alarm we are shocked into drastic and frantic action to remedy our mistakes, sometimes too late.

OBREGON'S VISION

If any dependence can be placed on the utterances of General Obregon, the victorious leader of the Mexican rebels, the United States will not be the loser in the change the revolution has brought about.

General Obregon has the vision that will bring about a closer relationship between the two governments and make for neighborly peace—if he can carry them out in a land so unsettled and with a people so vacillating.

He declares that "what strengthens the United States strengthens Mexico" and that "what weakens the one, weakens the other." He expresses the hope that soon there may be such a pleasant relationship between the two countries that the border dividing them may be like that between Canada and the United States.

If Obregon be in earnest and he can gather around him a sufficient number of men big enough to catch the same vision and can secure a new government for the republic whose interpretation of the Monroe doctrine is not suicidal as he declares Carranza's was, the end of the long contentions between the two countries will be brought about and the development of the wonderful resources of Mexico may be carried on and the country placed in the class to which it belongs, a distinction it might have enjoyed for years had it not been for its lack of broader minds and higher ideals.

In the light of past years this prophecy seems to be visionary, but the world has Obregon's enlightened views at least on which to base the prophecy.

BIG TIMES COMING

A WEEK CHOCK FULL OF GREAT
EVENTS FOR GLENDALE
BOYS

All the boys who participated in the Camp Name Contest for the naming of the new Y. M. C. A. Camp site at Pine Flats in the beautiful San Gabriel Canyon will be interested to know what name was chosen. The new name for the big camp is to be "Pine Flats Camp" and the boy who named it was Earl Robtem of the Masonic Home, Covina. Earl will get a two weeks' trip to the Pine Flats Camp free. In the voting by the committee the names which received second, third and fourth were, Crystal Lake Camp, Is-lip Camp and Soldier Creek Camp.

High School Boys

Last Friday afternoon a party of High School boys, members of the two Ladder Clubs, of which J. Mac McMillan and E. Ingledue are leaders, left for the San Gabriel Canyon in autos. The boys reached the Red Triangle Cabin in time to make fires and cook supper before dark. A big log fire was built in the fireplace of the cabin and a long, pleasant evening was spent in the telling of stories and experiences followed by the regular service of the evening. Secretary McDonald of Azusa led the evening work. Then every one crawled into the blankets out under the big oaks with the sky for the roof. The camp was astir early and the camp fires were surrounded with hungry and expectant boys frying bacon and cooking flapjacks. The party was divided into two-hour shifts doing carpenter work in the erection of four new bunk houses to accommodate more boys in the overnight hikes. The features of the day were the great sunrise meeting on the mountain top with the 30 High School boys taking part, the swimming in the river, the great hike to the top of the range to get a view of Old Baldy and a lot of other big times. The boys of the Y. M. C. A. Clubs have had some great times and most profitable ones, too, during the last season and next school year will see a great many more enrolled in the clubs. The work included study, practical talks, gymnasium work, hiking and camping and there is no membership dues as far as the Y. M. C. A. is concerned.

Intermediate Boys

Tuesday evening the two Triangle Clubs under Mr. Boyd and Mr. Hopping decided to hold their regular meetings out of doors and in several autos went up the Verdugo Canyon for a camp fire meeting. They like the camp fire lessons and seem to get more out of them, too. After the lesson they roasted weiners and as they expressed it had a "jake" time. Secretary Williamson was present and the club voted to participate in the big closing rally which is to be held in the First M. E. Church Friday evening, May 28th. They have planned to have a big feed at 6:30, and this club is going to put on a demonstration of how to run a regular Y. M. C. A. group meeting. Then there will be acted out on the stage a real camp fire scene with all the yells, stories and songs, with the picture machine and a whole evening of fun and a big closing jamboree. The boys are all to invite their folks to see the big doings.

PX Clubs

On the same night the Triangle Club held their big camp fire meeting the Tropico PX Club with J. Allen Adams, the leader, in Secretary Williamson's car (12 of them) went up the Verdugo Canyon for their "weiner roast." At their business session they voted to show the people of Glendale at the big closing rally on May 28th how a boys' PX Club ought to be run. Several boys took application cards to be signed to go to the Pine Flats camp. The Central Avenue PX Club with Geo. Tyrrell went down to the L. A. River for their meeting and report a good time. Several of these boys took applications for the summer camp.

MORE HEROES' BODIES ARRIVE

The news that a United States warship will arrive at New York this week with the bodies of 153 sailors and marines who died in France, the first of the dead of these branches of the service to be returned, should be encouraging to those parents who have been campaigning so earnestly, often in the face of bitter opposition, for the reburial of the heroes in the homeland.

The bodies of all soldiers, sailors and marines buried in Germany, Luxemburg, Austria and Russia are to be brought back, even if their relatives should prefer that they remain there.

The navy department will bring back the sailors and marines buried in any other European country unless their relatives specifically request that they be not disturbed.

The bodies of soldiers buried in England, Italy and Belgium will be returned unless the relatives specifically ask that they be allowed to remain there.

From France only those soldiers' bodies will be brought back whose relatives ask for them.

have a tendency to cure "that terrible thirst" you get in summer. The only cheap thing here is street car fare, and they talk of raising that. Dallas has some beautiful churches, splendid organ music and singing in most of them. Dallas is conspicuous for the many handsome and costly diamonds worn by both men and women. It seems that everyone wears them here; even the clerks in the stores and waitresses sport them. For another thing, Dallas certainly has beautiful women. Oh, boy!

The climate here is very changeable. A few days ago it was unbearably hot, but the last few days overcoats and winter dresses have felt comfortable. We have had many electric storms of late. The Trinity River is rising hourly and already three lives have been lost there. I took a car ride across the viaduct the other day and found the river an interesting sight. Many houses and little farms were completely surrounded by the swift current. Not until Dallas builds a levee will these conditions be remedied. It is reported that if hard rains continue tonight we will have no gas in the morning. Cheerful outlook and it's growing colder every minute! That is the great drawback in Dallas. When the weather is coldest there is no gas. I was in homes this winter where we had to get up at 5 a. m. to get breakfast and do the cooking for the day as no gas could be had after 7 or 8 a. m. until nearly 10 o'clock at night. Hundreds of families sat up all night before Christmas and New Year's to get their turkeys cooked. The price of wood and coal is out of sight.

The residential parts of Dallas are Munger Place, Oak Lawn, some parts of Oak Cliff and Highland Park, which last, by the way, is a separate township, having its own mayor, city hall, etc. Only the wealthiest people live there and in Munger Place. It has been my good fortune to be in many of these wonderful homes.

Real estate in Dallas is out of sight. You cannot touch the plainest kind of a bungalow for less than $15,000 to $17,000 and that is considered cheap. They will not believe me and laugh when I tell them I could buy the same kind of a bungalow only better built for $5,000 to $7,000 in California. An unfurnished apartment with three or four rooms rents for about $50, a single room for $30, and a furnished bungalow, one story, in Oak Cliff, for $100 to $125. Of course, all these houses have garages and servants' houses in the rear, for the colored people must have their own quarters in which to live as well as their churches and schools and their places in the trains, street cars, eating houses, etc.

With the exception of going through a small-pox and a "flu" epidemic and being worked almost to death in both, of being held up one dark and dreary night, of being alone in a burning house with a practically helpless invalid and various other trifling incidents, my stay here has been most pleasant and restful; but nevertheless I will hail the day—not so far away now, when I shall return to dear old Glendale.

The Evening News I get regularly and read everything in it, including the want ads and "lost and found." My sincere good wishes to one and all of my dear friends until we meet again in June.

Alice Frank.

UNDERSTANDING EACH OTHER

Those who fancy themselves not understood by the people with whom they have to associate might find some consolation in the fact that they themselves are not taking any great trouble to understand others. We are really not so complex or peculiar as we often imagine, and perhaps we are not worth so much study as we demand.—Exchange.

POSITIVE ABOUT ONE THING

A certain publisher sends new books to a select list of literary people, and after waiting a respectable time sends a statement. Recently one of these statements, which had evidently been sent to a man who should not at all have been on the list of "selected literary folk," came back with the following written on it:

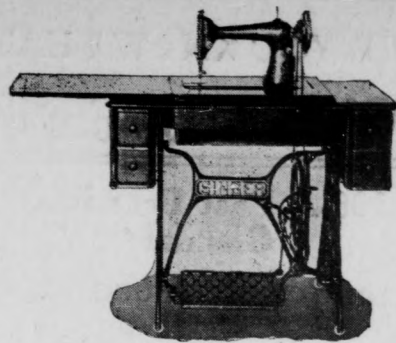

"I never ordered the darn book. If I did, you didn't send it. If you sent it, I never got it. If I got it, I paid for it. If I didn't, I won't. Now, go and jump in the river, you fathead."

ACCORDING TO ORDERS

The doctor consulted his thermometer and looked startled. Then he hurriedly tested his patient's pulse. "Good gracious, man!" he gasped, "What have you been doing? Your temperature is up to danger point and your pulse is terrific. Have you been limiting yourself to infant diet, as I told you?"

The patient nodded feebly. "Yes, doctor, I have," he whispered. "During the last twenty-four hours I have eaten three apple cores, over a dozen match stalks and various buttons; but I find considerable difficulty in chewing the coal."

Silence of Moscow brings relief, not alarm.

palled at the dirt on the streets, in the stores and even in the homes, but one can get used to almost anything and now conditions do not look quite so bad to me. The other day I was walking down the street when the friend who was walking with me excitedly grabbed my arm and exclaimed: "Look! There is a house with clean windows!" I was quite relieved to find there was nothing worse.

Everybody here of any account is coming to Los Angeles this summer. It is a strange thing but nearly every one who is coming or who knows anything about California knows about Glendale, and most of them have either friends or relatives living in our city. It is odd how small the world really is.

The other day I met a charming lady who at once exclaimed after she heard I was from Glendale, Cal., "Why, that is where I get that wonderful medicine which has helped my poor boy so much. Do you know that doctor?" I named over a few of our leading physicians and when I got to Dr. Harrower's name her face brightened and she cried: "That's the one," and then I had to tell her all I knew about Dr. Harrower.

About the only amusement Dallas people have is the movies. They are all on one thoroughfare, Elm street. On one side are the most attractive ones where the patron pays 35c to 50c to see a show, and right here I want to say there isn't a picture house in all Dallas so attractive or well kept as our own Palace Grand. On the other side of the street are the 15c shows. These houses are smaller and they show the same pictures put on by the more expensive theatres on the other side but a few weeks later. They also show some of the cheaper films. Sometimes when I am not busy I drop into a show and forget I am in far-off Texas when I see familiar scenes filmed in Griffith Park or Hollywood. Last night I saw a most thrilling picture staged on L. C. Brand's estate in North Glendale. Just at present the Scotti Opera Co. is here and Dallas has gone wild over opera.

Can you imagine that Dallas hasn't a single ice cream parlor! Generally in the rear of the drug stores there are a few tables or in a rather dirty looking candy store you can sit down at a table but there is nothing dainty or attractive about the service. And talk about prices! I had to pay 35c for a vanilla cream soda the other day. These prices

Why Every Citizen of Glendale Should Own Stock In This Hospital

Because there is no one who questions the need of such a hospital in Glendale.

Because it is a non-sectarian institution and is being promoted in the interest of every resident of Glendale.

Because the site chosen for the hospital is one of the highest and healthiest in Glendale—in the Piedmont Park section.

Because the plans as drawn call for one of the most modern hospitals in Southern California and it will be an institution of which the city can be proud.

Because the capital stock has been divided into shares which are being sold at par to everyone alike.

Because men of business foresight are buying this stock.

Because you can purchase as little as one share of stock and pay for it in monthly or quarterly installments.

Because this kind of stock is paying big dividends in other places.

JAWN'S CAST-OFFS MAKE GOOD IN JOBS ON OTHER TEAMS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 19.—Youngsters weep in most places when the gate opens and they get a ticket out.

But they weep not in New York. It's a good omen when Jawn McGraw puts an N. G. mark on their tag. They take the can that he ties on them to another field and fill it full of a good job.

McGraw has cut loose some of the best players in the National League and several that would be hard to buy in the American League. If he had all the players now that he has disposed of, the Giants could spend the world's series money right now.

McGraw is experimenting now with George Kelly on first base while three former Giants are doing a good job of it for other clubs—Walter Holke, for the Braves; Gene Paulette, for the Phils; and Fred Merkle, for the Cubs.

During the winter when Frank Frisch was an uncertainty McGraw was willing to give the Cards $25,000 for Milton Stock, his old third baseman. He'd probably give as much right now since Frisch became disabled.

Eddie Roush, champion hitter of the league; Heinie Groh, about the best third baseman in the game; Mickey O'Neil, the best young catcher developed in years; and Ferdie Schupp, star pitcher of the Cards are all former Giants.

The Braves have five ex-Giants headed by Joe Oeschger, who has been pitching sensational ball and including Hank Gowdy, Dick Rudolph, Wilson and Jones.

Slim Saltee used to work his old left wing for the Giants and Bill Kariden used to catch in New York. Both are now worthy members of the clan of Pat Moran, himself a former Giant.

Rube Marquard, Kilduff and Krueger, of the Dodgers, started in New York and so did Causey and Smith, of the Phils.

Even the American League has a few who used to appear on the Giant payroll.

Waite Hoyt, the youthful Red Sox pitcher and one of the sensations of the season, had several trials with McGraw. Baby Doll Jacobson, outfielder of the Browns who clubs around 300 went to Marlin several times with the Giants. Erickson, one of the Clarke Griffith's good pitchers, also tried to get a regular place on the Giant bench and Ernie Shore made the same futile effort after he left college.

McGraw makes no bones of it. He plans for today letting tomorrow take care of itself. When he needs a player he goes out and gets one regardless of the cost.

RESPONSIBILITY

J. Ogden Armour says: "If I don't trust a man I don't give him responsibility. If I do trust him I let him alone. I want my men to think for themselves. I want them to come with a decision, not for a decision. I expect them to handle their jobs as they see fit, knowing that they will have to answer to me only for results."

HAS A RIGHT TO YELL

A coal heaver's "feelings were hurt" by the unthoughtful actions of his children.

"Mary," expostulated this man to his wife, "don't I always tell you I won't have the children bringing in coal from the shed in my best hat?"

"Oh, why should you care?" demanded his wife. "You've spoiled the shape of that hat already, and what can a little coal dust do to harm it?"

"You don't see the point," protested the husband, with dignity. "I only wears that hat in the evenings; and, if, while I am out, I takes it off my head it leaves a big black band 'round my forehead. What's the consequence? Why, I get accused of washin' my face with my hat on, and it ain't nice, Mary; it ain't nice!"

Francisco Villa and his army were the pioneers in the overalls movement.

More Building

The building activity in Glendale continues. More buildings of all kinds are going up in this city today than ever before.

Prices are high but people are seeing the wisdom and the necessity of building now. Buildings of all kinds are in demand. More homes and business blocks will have to be built before the demand is met and normal conditions return.

It might be imagined that we are working under difficulties because we have several large buildings under construction at the same time. But we are giving the same attention to detail and are carrying out every term of our contracts just as scrupulously as we did when we were doing one job at a time—when work was not so plentiful and a contract not so easy to secure.

We have the several departments of our business so organized and we have such large forces of experienced men on the job that we are able to do several pieces of work at one time without sacrificing anything necessary to good construction.

The buildings that we are constructing now will show the same careful work and attention to detail as do the scores of buildings that we have erected in former years and which are standing today to speak for us and for the quality of our work.

PRESBYTERIANS MAY VOTE ON ADMITTING WOMEN TO MINISTRY

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—(United Press).—The privilege of admitting women to ordination as ruling elders will be submitted to referendum vote of the entire Presbyterian Church throughout the United States if the recommendation of the commission especially appointed to investigate the matter is approved by the Presbyterian General Assembly, which opened its official annual sessions in Philadelphia last night.

The commission on the official relation of women in the church consists of Rev. S. Hall Young, Chairman, New York; Rev. Edgar W. Work, New York; Rev. William L. Barrett, Bellefontaine, Ohio; John T. Manson, New Haven, Conn.; and Rush Taggart, New York. It has been investigating the subject for the past year. It canvassed the opinion of leading ministers, elders and women of the Presbyterian Church.

This survey showed that the Scriptures did not forbid either women elders or women preachers; that three other denominations ordain women to the ministry but few women avail themselves of the privilege; that four other denominations did not have women preachers and are not inclined to have them; that the evidence shown is favorable to women as elders but unfavorable to women as ministers; that of the Presbyterians canvassed sixty per cent favored women as elders, forty-eight and one-half per cent favored women as ministers, while thirty-one and one-half per cent opposed any change in the present usage of the church.

The General Assembly of 1919 received three overtures; one from the Presbytery of Columbia River asked that women be made eligible to ordination both as ministers and ruling elders; the Presbytery of Saginaw, Mich., asked that they be ordained as ruling elders; and the Presbytery of Dallas, Texas, asked that a committee be appointed to investigate the whole question of enlarged opportunities for women in the Church.

These overtures were referred to the Assembly's Committee of Polity. A majority of the committee recommended that the Assembly take no action; a minority report asked that a committee be appointed to take under consideration the whole matter of enlarging opportunities for women in the church and to report to the next Assembly. The minority report was adopted and the committee appointed by the moderator.

The committee held several meetings and conducted a campaign to ascertain the usage in other denominations and to see what Presbyterians thought about the propositions. When the evidence had been gathered, it was found such diversity of opinion existed that the matter should be settled by the Presbyteries themselves.

It was agreed to offer a resolution at the General Assembly providing for mail vote. The resolution follows:

"Resolved, That the Stated Clerk be directed to prepare and send to the Presbyteries for their action the following Overture:

"Shall the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. be so amended as to admit properly qualified and elected women to ordination as Ruling Elders, with all the rights and duties pertaining to this office?"

front and side of his residence on the southwest corner of Orange street and Wilson avenue. Referred to the City Manager.

Bids advertised for to supply the Public Service Department with appliances for water chlorination, were opened. Only one bid was offered, being that of the Water Works Supply Co., which was read and referred to the Engineer of the Public Service Department.

A communication was read from F. G. Bylik, making application for permit to operate at 1513 South San Fernando Road a business consisting of an analytical laboratory and a small manufacturing plant for the extraction of oil, juice and by-products from lemons and oranges. On motion of Trustee Henry, the permit was granted.

The City Forester made a request in behalf of Samuel Fish of 127 N. Kenwood street for permission to remove a tree in the parkway to make way for a driveway. Referred to the City Manager to report upon at the next meeting.

Thirty days having elapsed since the filing of the assessment for the opening and widening of Orange St. from Lexington Drive to Milford St., the subject was called up at this time and the Clerk reported that protests had been received against the approval of the assessment. Protests were read from Maggie E. Burleigh, owner of Lot 23 of the Campbell Tract, and from Jesse Joseph, E. E. East and C. L. Traver, owners of lots assessed for the project. On motion of Trustee Henry a hearing was set for the protests against the opening of Orange street for June 3, 1920, at eight o'clock p. m.; notice to be given by the Clerk to protesters.

A communication was read from the deacons of the Presbyterian Church calling attention to the unsatisfactory service of the Pacific Electric Railroad Company in the matter of connections between cars on Brand boulevard and those running between Brand boulevard and Glendale avenue and points east. The matter was referred to the City Manager to take up with the railroad company.

Demands were presented and referred to the Finance Committee. Later, the Finance Committee reported back demands approved, and on motion of Trustee Stephenson, warrants were ordered to be issued in payment of the same.

The City Manager presented a tentative budget for the Public Service Department and requested further time in which to make report in regard to charges for electricity.

The City Manager explained the circumstances in regard to the complaint made by Mr. Fram at the last meeting. He stated that it was not the intention of the Public Service Department to discriminate among patrons, but in the judgment of the Superintendent of Plant it is necessary that there be as few large meters installed as possible. He has prepared a set of rules governing the matter, which, if adopted, will probably avoid any misunderstanding in the future.

The City Manager reported that in regard to the bids for the improvement of Sycamore Canyon Road several property owners had spoken to him requesting that action be deferred; and in accordance with his suggestion, no action was taken.

On motion of Trustee Stephenson, the City Clerk was authorized to sign a permit on the part of the City, as adjoining owners, for the registration of Lot 21, Block 6 of the Town of Glendale, under the Torrens Land Registration system.

The Engineer of the Public Service Department prepared contracts covering the bids previously accepted, and on motion of Trustee Henry, the contract in accordance with the bid of the Western Electric & Manufacturing Co. was ordered executed by the proper officials. On motion of Trustee Henry, it was ordered that the contract be entered into with the Layne & Bowler Company, in accordance with their bid.

On motion of Trustee Henry it was ordered that a contract be entered into with the A. S. Cameron Steam Pump Company in accordance with their bid.

On motion of Trustee Robinson, contract was ordered to be entered into with the General Electric Company, in accordance with their bid.

The ordinance providing for lot cleaning, etc., at the expense of the property owner, previously presented to the Board, was on motion of Trustee Stephenson adopted as Ordinance No. 380, "An Ordinance of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale to Compel the Owner, Lessee, or Occupant of Buildings, Grounds or Lots to Remove Dirt, Rubbish, Weeds and Rank Growth from the Sidewalk Opposite Thereto, and from the Building or Grounds, and on His Default After Notice as Therein Provided, to Authorize the Removal or Destruction Thereof by the Street Superintendent of Said City, at the Expense of Such Owner, Lessee or Occupant, and Prescribing the Procedure to Make Such Expense a Lien Upon Such Buildings or Grounds."

Trustee Henry presented an ordinance amending Ordinance No. 355, which was read and laid over.

Trustee Stephenson presented an ordinance regulating salaries, which was read and laid over.

Trustee Stephenson made a motion, which was adopted, instructing the City Manager and the Engineer of the Public Service Department to bring in to the next regular meeting of the Board a plan for taking care of the sewerage in Verdugo Canyon, in the meantime consulting with Engineer Jones and Dr. Wilson in regard to the matter.

A communication addressed to the Mayor was read from United States Navy Recruiting Inspector, San Francisco, setting forth the desirability of obtaining young men as recruits for duty on board the United States steamship "California," which is now being constructed with the intention of making it the flagship of the Pacific Fleet. Young men between the ages of 18 and 35 are desired. The communication requested the co-operation of the City in obtaining said recruits. Ordered to be filed.

A letter from Judge E. M. Ross and Mrs. Bell C. Thom, owner of water rights in Verdugo Canyon, addressed to the Board of Trustees was presented and ordered to be filed.

PRODUCERS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 21. (United Press).—Twenty-two impoverished cripples and tuberculosis patients—Mexicans, Italians and negroes—have been transformed from "objects of charity" to independent producers by Los Angeles city's free water, John S. Sampson, Jr., told the public service commission at a recent meeting.

And the tubercular patients and cripples declare they have found happiness in the change. The prosaic proceedings of the board were suddenly enlivened when Sampson rose to protest against the board's shutting off the miracle-working stream.

In the congested district on East Ninth street, Sampson explained the Hauser Packing company and the Hostetter Bitters company had given the use of a tract of land to poor families for garden purposes. Mrs. Sampson, president of the Bishop's Guild of the Episcopal Church and head of the Episcopal Clothing Bureau, took charge of the tract and divided it into twenty-two plots, assigning each plot to a needy family.

Then she marshaled her small army, the lame and halt and enfeebled, who had been receiving charity from the county, and set them to raising vegetables.

"It's a sight for sore eyes," Sampson told the public service commissioners. "Not one of them has had to accept county help since the gardens were started. Chilis, cabbage, potatoes, turnips, beets and other vegetables have thrived in the gardens. Enough has been raised not only to feed the needy families, but to offer for sale as well."

The gardeners take great pleasure in their achievements which have captured them several prizes in public competitions.

While Mrs. Sampson was out of the city attending a conference of social workers "somebody" shut off the water.

"Somebody's foot slipped," remarked Howard Robertson, president of the board, as he ordered that the water be turned on again at once.

CANDIDATES AFTER OREGON'S 10 VOTES

SALEM, Ore., May 21. (United Press).—One of five Republican Presidential candidates will receive 10 instructed votes at the national convention as the result of the primaries which are being held in Oregon today.

William G. McAdoo probably will get the Democratic delegation from this state, as his name is the only one on the Democratic presidential ticket.

Republican voters are today marking ballots for Herbert C. Hoover, Hiram W. Johnson, Frank O. Lowden, and Leonard Wood.

Under the Oregon law, delegates who are elected to attend a national convention, are pledged to support the presidential candidate receiving the highest popular vote at the Oregon primary as long as he, in their judgment, has a chance of nomination.

Of the 346 candidates throughout Oregon who seek state and district honors at the primaries today, 272 are Republicans and 74 are Democrats. Ten of the 346 are women.

BEGGING THE QUESTION

She met him in a darkened room. Said he, "I've brought some roses!"

She answered with irrelevance, "Oh, dear! how cold your nose is!"

EXPOSING WILD WIMMEN'S WAYS

"You say this is an educational film?"

"Yes," replied the movie magnate blandly.

"But it features a 'vampire.'"

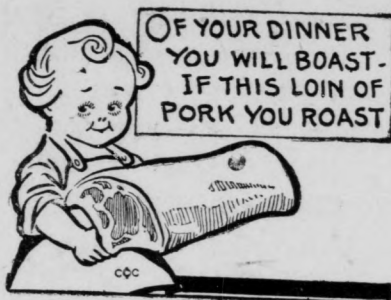

"Exactly. We're trying to make the world safe for married men."

INDEPENDENCE FOR ARMENIA

Inasmuch as neither the United States nor any other power has been willing to accept a mandate to govern Armenia, the supreme council of the allies, sitting at San Remo, has decided to make it an independent state. The announcement is welcome, particularly because the unwillingness of the European diplomats to drive the sultan out of Constantinople had given rise to the unpleasant thought that they might also hesitate to tear his grasp loose from unhappy Armenia. It is also gratifying that the United States has been so quick to grant recognition to the new nation.

The Armenians set up a republic some time ago. Recognizing its independence does not absolve the allies from the moral obligation to protect it. They cannot honorably wash their hands of further participation in Armenian affairs. It has been a disgrace that such conditions as have been reported to exist in Armenia at a recent date have been tolerated by the victors in the war. A year and a half after the armistice was signed these Christian people were still at the mercy of the Turk, in danger of violence and massacre.

Several weeks ago a delegation of some 500 American veterans of Armenian origin, wearing the uniform in which they served in the United States army, went to Washington and presented a memorial to congress asking for recognition of the republic of Armenia. It was pointed out that while the enemy, at the conclusion of hostilities, was at once compelled to evacuate France, Belgium and Serbia, and while the liberated nationalities of Poland and Czechoslovakia were started without delay upon their new careers, practically nothing has been done as yet for Armenia. Yet the last was the greatest sufferer of all. Armenia has been entitled to more consideration than she has received, not only on the ground of humanity, but also in return for the services she rendered as an ally.

From the smallness of the vote cast in presidential primaries, compared with what it might have been, it looks like the majority of the electors are not particular whether it is one or t'other.

Secretary of State Smith of Ohio holds that motor-driven hearses are pleasure cars. But few will yearn for pleasure rides of that kind.
